Sirhan Likes Pen Better Than Jail

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — The mother of Sirhan Bishara Sirhan says her son is not happier but has more freedom and gets along better with officials at San Quentin Prison than he did at the Los Angeles jail, where he was a prisoner for nearly a year before and during his trial.

Mary Sirhan and another son, Munir, 21, visited for the second straight day yesterday with the condemned assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Mrs. Sirhan planned to return to Los Angeles after another visit today with Sirhan, the last of four visits allowed by relatives of death row prisoners. Munir visited his brother alone earlier this month.
